*3rd EAI International Conference
on Computational Intelligence and Communications*

September 8 - 9, 2022

Original Location: Brisbane, Australia (virtual)

About EAI CCom

In this year's CCom, we are soliciting original contributions on computational intelligence and communications whose applications are beneficial to the concerned entity in particular, and to the society in general. In other words, we are soliciting contributions on ethical use of computational intelligence and communications. We are particularly interested in new solutions that detect and stop the propagation of fake news, prevent malware, stop hacking, detect facial recognition for surveillance purposes, and the likes. Other works related to this theme are welcome. Read more: Call for Papers
